Greek Revival Architecture of Provincetown
Stephen Jerome, Historian
Sat, Dec. 1, 3:30pm
Hatches Harbor Room
The architecture of Provincetown spans nearly three centuries and is characterized by myriad shapes, sizes and styles. Join architectural and social historian Stephen Jerome on a visual tour of the Greek Revival style that forms so much of the special character of Provincetown. The Greek Revival architectural type is well represented in very diverse examples in Provincetown, from elegant doorway surrounds added in the Greek Revival style to otherwise vernacular earlier houses, to major examples on Commercial Street, often hidden under commercial alterations and other changes. RSVP at Concierge Desk

screenings in the Point Room
SATURDAY & SUNDAY AFTERNOON MATINEE
3pm

SATURDAY @ 3pm
Sat. 12/1 “To Have and Have Not” (1944), 1h 40m, 3pm
Dynamic duo William Faulkner and Jules Furthman scripted this Howard Hawks classic starring Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall (who, rumor has it, fell in love on the set) that's supposedly based on an Ernest Hemingway tome. Bogie is Harry Morgan, a charter boat owner who falls for Bacall's seductive petty thief, Marie Browning. Can't-miss scenes include the now-legendary "You know how to whistle, don't you?" exchange between Bogie and Bacall.

Sun. 12/2 “Philomena” (2013), 1h 35m, 3pm & 7:30 pm
Floundering BBC journalist Martin Sixsmith and aging Irishwoman Philomena Lee form an unlikely bond when they pair up to find the son Philomena was forced to give up for adoption 50 years ago. Cast: Judi Dench, Steve Coogan

Sat. 12/8 “The Rose Tattoo” (1955), 1h 56m, 3pm
Penned by Tennessee Williams, this bittersweet tale of a widowed Italian woman living in the South focuses on recluse Serafina (Anna Magnani), who longs for her dead husband, but finds she's unable to cope after learning of his infidelities. Fragile and depressed, Serafina serendipitously meets Alvaro (Burt Lancaster), whose zest ignites her desire to live life to its fullest. This drama scored three Oscars, including Best Actress for Magnani.

Sun. 12/9 “The Accountant” (2016), 2h 8m, 3pm & 7:30pm
Offering two very different skills to his clients, a financial forensics expert and trained assassin goes to work a tech mogul who's determined to eliminate those responsible for secretly manipulating the company's financial records. Cast: Ben Affleck, Anna Kendrick

Sat. 12/15 “The Night of the Iguana” (1964), 1h 58m, 3pm
Working as a tour guide in Mexico, the defrocked alcoholic Rev. Shannon (Richard Burton) steers a group of visiting American teachers to Maxine Faulk's (Ava Gardner) rundown hotel, where he soon becomes entangled in relationships with three very different women. Based on the Tennessee Williams play, this sexually charged drama from John Huston received several Academy Award and Golden Globe nominations, winning the Oscar for Best Costume Design.

Sun. 12/16 “Wolf of Wall Street” (2013), 2h 59m, 3pm & 7:30pm
Martin Scorcese's high-rolling Wall Street drama is based on the memoirs of stockbroker Jordan Belfort, whose giddy career -- involving audacious scams and confrontations with the FBI and other agencies -- ended in federal prison. Cast: Leonardo DiCaprio, Jonah Hill

Sat. 12/22 “Christmas in Connecticut” (1945), 1h 41m, 3pm
In this welcome addition to the canon of mandatory yuletide viewing, Barbara Stanwyck plays Elizabeth Lane, a magazine columnist who touts herself as a blissful wife, mother and expert homemaker living on an idyllic Connecticut farm. Trouble is, it's all a lie. When her pudgy publisher (Sydney Greenstreet) cooks up a scheme to boost circulation by having Elizabeth entertain a war veteran (Dennis Morgan) on Christmas Eve, will her charade unravel?
Sun. 12/23 “Hope Springs” (2012), 1h 40m, 3pm & 7:30pm
After decades of marriage, Kay and Arnold go to a couples' counselor in order to spice things up and reconnect. The real challenge for both of them comes as they try to reignite the spark that made them fall for each other in the first place. Cast: Meryl Streep, Tommy Lee Jones

Sat. 12/29 “Mrs. Delafield Wants to Marry” (1986), 1h 35m, 3pm
Margaret Delafield (Katharine Hepburn) is a wealthy widow who endures a health scare and develops a close bond with her doctor, Marvin Elias (Harold Gould). When they begin a romance, families on both sides balk at the possibility of marriage between the older couple.

Sun. 12/30 “City of Angels” (1998), 1h 54m, 3pm & 7:30pm
When guardian angel Seth (Nicolas Cage) -- who invisibly watches over the citizens of Los Angeles -- becomes captivated by Maggie (Meg Ryan), a strong-willed heart surgeon, he ponders trading in his pure, otherworldly existence for a mortal life with his beloved. The couple embarks on a tender but forbidden romance spanning heaven and Earth in this fantasy based on German director Wim Wenders’s 1987 film, Wings of Desire.
